

October 5, 2024

Join us for an immersive archaeological adventure! Explore historic bottles, cans, and artifacts through hands-on interactions. Delve into ethnobotany and discover the fascinating uses of native plants. Try your hand at flintknapping to create your own tools, and experience the ancient skill of throwing with an atlatl. Study animal bones in a zooarchaeology workshop, craft your own "rock" art, and hear captivating stories about traditional plateau life and culture.

Don't miss this unique opportunity to engage with history and heritage in a dynamic and educational setting!
